

Prof. Dr Eike Sebastian Debus, M.D., Ph.D., FEBS, FEBVS

Professor of Surgery

Eike Sebastian Debus is Professor for Surgery and Chair of the Department of Vascular Medicine, University of Hamburg-Eppendorf, Germany. Sebastian Debus was Secretary General of the European Society for Vascular Surgery 2015-2020. He was President of the German Vascular Society 2013/2014, chairs the Northern German Society of Surgery and the Northern German Society for Vascular Medicine. He was member of the presidium of the German Society of Surgery 2013/2014. He served as chief editor of the 'Journal of Wound healing', Gefäßchirurgie, Springer, founding Editor of GefäßmedizinScan (Thieme) and is member of the editorial board of various international journals.

He studied piano and double bass, and created a multidimensional music medicine program at his University Hospital, including concerts, musicmedicine research projects and included music medicine in the academic medical curriculum. His main research interests are vascular epidemiology and vascular care, aortic pathologies, peripheral occlusive disease and effect of sounds on outcomes in the operation theatre. He is founder of the German vascular registry program and is engaged in various projects of the European Society for Vascular Surgery, editor of several textbooks and author/co-author of more than 250 peer reviewed papers.